

MERCER COUNTY 4-H FAIR

BY: HASINI MERUVA

ASHLAND INNOVATION 4-H CLUB

Activities to do for fun

- Pony riding
- Pie eating contest
- Horse drawn & steam engine hayrides
- Archery
- Magic shows
- And more

Mercer County 4-H Fair & Howell historical living farm

This year's Mercer County 4-H fair took place at Howell historical living farm on July 31st and Aug 1. There were a bunch of things to do on Mercer County's 102nd 4-H Fair. It was the 13th time the Mercer County 4-H Fair took place at Howell historical living farm. The Mercer County 4-H Fair was conducted by Rutgers University, New Jersey.

Tents

There were a bunch of tents, the Dining tent, the show tent, the community exhibitors tent, the animal tents, the IOT tent, and the entertainment tent.

Ashland innovation 4-H club and Robbinsville innovation 4-H club members presenting their projects to the fair participants.

Kids are waiting eagerly for their card to be embossed.

Local Newspaper Journalist's interviewing Hasini Meruva and taking notes about her Project 'Water Meter'.

Sumedha Sabbani the club president of Robbinsville innovation 4-H club is presenting space rover.

Brian J. Schilling · Director, Rutgers Cooperative, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station is eagerly listening to all the Club Members Projects

The Robbinsville innovation 4-H club members are presenting their projects to the fair participants.

At the end of day 2 of the Mercer County 4-H fair all the Ashland innovation 4-H club members and Robbinsville innovation 4-H club members received ribbons.